

Florida Propane Gas Education, Safety, and Research Council

propane

ENERGY FOR FLORIDA

Free Training Program Deliveries at Your Location

“Decision Making at Propane Emergencies”

For Information or Scheduling

www.responsetechnologies.com/course-list/

Description: The Florida Propane Gas Education, Safety and Research Council is releasing their new training program titled “Decision Making at Propane Emergencies”. This no-cost, 4-hour course is intended to enhance the decision-making abilities of initial arriving company officers, incident commanders and propane employees during their response to incidents involving propane.

Topics Addressed:

- Case Histories
- Identifying Causes of Un-Desirable Outcomes,
- Conducting a Hazard Analysis and Risk Assessment,
- Developing a Plan for a Risk-Based Response,
- Assessing Resource Needs and Filling the Gaps
- Implementation of Plan and Evaluation Processes
- Proper Termination and Supporting Propane Industry Activities

Target Audience: Initial emergency decision makers, company officers, incident commanders, operations level responders and propane industry personnel.

Additional information and Scheduling: Requests can be made for single deliveries, two deliveries on the same day (morning/afternoon), multiple deliveries on contiguous dates or to meet special scheduling needs. Use the link above to obtain additional information or to schedule deliveries or call Response Technologies Corporation at (941) 371-7849. You will be contacted by a support specialist who can provide additional information or schedule your delivery. Direct link <https://forms.gle/x6EohS66VKkqZ4HTA>